Dr. Terry Baldwin Receives 2010 Q Award

(Peoria, IL) -- Dr. Terry Baldwin, a physician with the Illinois Gastroenterology Institute, is the recipient of the 2010 Q Award from Quality Quest for Health of Illinois. The Q Award is an annual award of the Quality Quest Board of Directors presented to an individual or organization that advances the mission and vision of Quest: achieving exceptional patient service and outcomes, building healthy communities, and promoting high value healthcare.

Dr. Baldwin served as the physician team leader of a Quest colonoscopy quality improvement project and has shown great commitment to its development and implementation over the past three years. This innovative project with local roots will save lives by decreasing colon cancer deaths. Dr. Baldwin exemplifies the goals of the Q Award with his leadership and guidance of the colonoscopy project.
